A Warning to Owner-Builder Permit Applicants

If you do not intend to do the work yourself and have been asked by someone without a contractor's license to pull the building permit, you are at risk of financial harm and penalty. Section 489.103(7) Florida Statutes states that owners of property must directly supervise the work being performed. Any person working on your construction project who is not a licensed contractor must be employed by you. Therefore, you must deduct FICA and withholding tax and provide workers' compensation for the employee. Without worker's compensation insurance, you could be held liable for injuries received on your property. Typically, your homeowner's insurance policy will not honor your claim if the work performed requires a licensed contractor. You could be responsible for thousands of dollars of medical bills.

NOT ONLY IS IT DANGEROUS, IT IS ALSO A CRIME

Section 455.227, Florida Statutes states that any person who knowingly aids, assists, procures, employs, or advises an unlicensed individual can be charged with a first-degree misdemeanor and may face fines up to $5,000.00 for each offense. It is important to know that owners of property do not receive a discounted permit. fee for obtaining a permit themselves. A licensed contractor in good standing with the Building Department will always obtain a permit for your project.
